Making designing for Mozilla more efficient, more innovative, and more collaborative, for staff & volunteers!

Goals

1. To create a central place where community and staff can make design requests to a large community of passionate volunteer designers

2. We want staff designers to be able to develop relationships and collaborate with community designers

3. We want design requests to be trackable across our system

Strategy

- GitHub repository where community-design requests can be submitted

- Mozilla Discourse category for community-design

- Monthly calls where staff and contributors can come with questions, or projects they'd like to share

Attendees':
